Mr. Kraft,

I understand.

But that said, please let me draw your attention to Fed. R. Bankr. P. 7004(f), which states that the Bankruptcy Court does indeed have personal jurisdiction over you. Here is the relevant provision:

(f) Personal jurisdiction. If the exercise of jurisdiction is consistent with the Constitution and laws of the United States, serving a summons or filing a waiver of service in accordance with this rule or the subdivisions of Rule 4 F.R.Civ.P. made applicable by these rules is effective to establish personal jurisdiction over the person of any defendant with respect to a case under the Code or a civil proceeding arising under the Code, or arising in or related to a case under the Code.

Fed. R. Bankr. P. 7004(f).

Please note that if you fail to file the dismissal pleading required by the Bankruptcy Court's August 26 Order, Grace will file a supplemental pleading informing the court of your continuing violation of the court's orders.

Your e-mail response stating you will not attend the hearing will also be attached to that supplemental pleading.

Warmest Regards. R

Mr. Higgins,

I hereby acknowledge receipt of the documents. There is no need to send me the court filings by next-day mail service or any other kinds of mail service.

You may inform the Delaware based Article I court that I do not consent to its jurisdiction, and that I will not participate in any activities at the court.

Thanks,

Rune
